Haistings Case Starts Tomorrow at Ozark

WILL BE TRIED FOR THE MURDER OF PAUL JOHNSON ON LAST NOVEMBER

The case of Will Haistings indicted for the murder of Conductor Paul Johnson which took place at Pinckard on November 1 last will come up for trial tomorrow in Ozark. This is one of the most interesting cases that has been docketed in Dale county in many years and has been the talk of this section of the state since the death of Mr Johnson occurred here on the night of November 1 about 24 hours after Haistings had fired the fatal shot.

Haistings after shooting Mr Johnson who as is well remembered here was conductor on the Dothan to Elba train, was given a preliminary hearing and held for the grand jury without bail. A number of Dothan attorneys are interested in the case and many of the witnesses who will likely number a hundred will be from this city.

GUNBOAT TO VISIT PANAMA CITY SOON

Panama City and the people of the St Andrews Bay country have never had a visit from a gunboat, one of Uncle Sam's fighting craft, but they are to be treated to this sight on the 29th of this month when the Wheeling is to be there.

The railroad has arranged for an excursion for that date giving one fare round trip on that occasion and the bay country is looking for many visitors on that occasion.

They are particularly proud of the visit as it will show that boats of this size can land in St Andrews Bay.

GLOBE TROTTERS COMING

The Kiltie, the world renowned Scottish Canadian concert band now on their seventeenth tour and fresh from their triumphal tour of the world in which they circled the globe and visited twenty different countries in two years and three months of continuous travel will be seen in Dothan on Feb [illegible] 191[illegible] for two performances, matinee and night.

Accompanying this famous concert band is a male choir of sixteen voices, bag pipe soloist, the famous Kiltie's dancers, trumpet and a giant drum major seven feet and two inches tall.

The management of the High school feel that this is really the most noted attraction of the season and have consequently made arrangements to have the crowd accommodated and have the program rendered to the best advantage.

DROPS DEAD WHILE TALKING OF DEATH

Birmingham, Ala, Feb 19. While talking of death to Policeman Given at Avenue B and Twenty fourth street, Joe Denman, aged 60 years, dropped dead yesterday morning about 10 o'clock.

Denman is well known in the city having been a citizen here for several years. He was discussing the recent tragic death of his friend J A Tuck, who was killed by a railroad engine one day last week. Mr Denman suddenly stopped talking, gasped for breath and fell to the ground dead.

He was taken to [illegible] undertaking parlors where the body will be held pending funeral arrangements. He has relatives in Birmingham, Montgomery and Meridian.

STARVATION CAUSING DEATHS OF CHINESE

Pekin, China, Feb 19. More than six million Chinese are dying as a result of the destruction of the crops by floods and war. Bishop Graves of Shanghai who is sending out appeals for $1,000,000 is suggesting through the [illegible] missionary movement that a definite date be set when collections can be taken up in churches throughout the world to help the suffering China. March 10 has been proposed.

The greatest suffering is [illegible] which has not only been ravaged by flood but has become the theater of the Chinese civil war. Throughout other sections of the country farmers and their sons went to war leaving their farms until the Manchu dynasty was overthrown and as the republican government is without funds they cannot help them [illegible].

NEW EXPRESS BLDG. WORK SOON TO BEGIN

OFFICE WILL BE ERECTED ON CRAWFORD LOT NEXT TO OLD CHAUTAUQUA LOCATION

Contractor J W Brashman has begun work on the excavation for the new down town office building of the Southern Express Company on North Oates Street just off Main. The building will be erected next to the old Chautauqua location on one of the Crawford lots. It will be 20 by 100 feet and will face north Oates street and the county court house.

This building which is the third erected by the express company here within the past year will be used for the down town office and old Main street house will be abandoned. This is the first business house erected out west Main west of Oates street and shows that the down town district is spreading beyond the old limits.

WALLACE VANN BOND OVER TO GRAND JURY

CHARGED WITH STEALING $40 IN MONEY AND A VALUABLE WATCH

Wallace Vann, the young man charged with stealing $40 in money and a watch valued at $[illegible] was given a preliminary hearing here yesterday afternoon and bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He is now in the county jail having failed to make bond.

Vann was arrested several weeks ago on complaint of Monroe Brown who is alleged to have been the owner of the stolen goods. He claims he had sheltered Vann several weeks and that one afternoon while the family were away from home the defendant broke into a trunk where the valuables were stored and stole them.

Mr Brown claims to have traced the money and found out where Vann had spent it. Vann claims Washington as his home.

ROBBERS MAKE BIG HAUL AT AUSTELL GA

WHEN SAFE EXPLODES HOTEL GUESTS ARE THROWN OUT OF THEIR BEDS

Atlanta, Ga, Feb 19. Robbers blew open and rifled the small vault of the [illegible] Bank at Austell, a few miles west of Atlanta early today. They escaped with about $[illegible] in cash and valuable [illegible]. The bank is on the ground floor of a hotel building and the force of the explosion threw many of the guests of the hotel out of their beds.

Sensation Expected In Ozark Very Soon

SUPREME COURT TO BE BUSY THIS WEEK

Washington, Feb 19. Many important decisions are expected from the supreme court which reconvenes tomorrow at noon after [illegible] weeks rest.

More interest is attached to the three or on the anti-trust situation by the decision in the [illegible] case involving an alleged combination of railroads and coal companies in the Pennsylvania anthracite region, in the St Louis Bridge case involving an alleged illegal combination by railroads to control the bridges across the Mississippi river at St Louis and in the cotton corner case involving the right to effect a corner of a commodity.

A decision on whether initiative and referendum legislation is in accord with the federal constitution is also expected soon.

After announcing decisions the court will hear arguments on a long list of assigned cases including some far reaching questions affecting interstate commerce.

STATE BANKING DEPARTMENT ANXIOUS TO HAVE T T CRAWFORD INDICTED

Montgomery, Ala, Feb 19. Examiner J P Bosmer of the state banking department left Montgomery Monday morning for Ozark to appear before the Dale county grand jury a second time in an effort to secure an indictment against T T Crawford, former bookkeeper of the Dale county bank of Ozark who is accused by the state banking department of embezzling approximately $10,000 from this bank.

The Dale county grand jury recently adjourned without finding a true bill against Crawford. At its sitting Examiner Bosmer appeared before the inquisitorial body for the prosecution. It was claimed the alleged shortage had been made good.

The Dale county grand jury meets in adjourned session this Monday and Examiner Bosmer has gone down a second time to testify before the body.

Developments in this matter could possibly lead to somewhat of a sensation which might ultimately reach the [illegible] office. Henry B Steagall, solicitor of Dale county, the superintendent of banks, A E Walker, has employed [illegible] a Dothan law firm as special counsel to prosecute Crawford.

The banking department has been vigorous in the prosecution of Crawford and enforcement of the banking laws of the state. The alleged shortage of the former bookkeeper was reported by examiners last fall and it was alleged that Crawford's shortage was due to padding of the books.

Although the meeting of the grand jury at Ozark Monday is an adjourned session it was understood that the principal matter before the [illegible] is the charge against Crawford.

WOOD ALCOHOL PROHIBITED IN AUSTRIA IN FOODS AND DRUGS

As a consequence of the numerous fatal casualties in the asylum in Berlin where more than sixty lives were lost recently by the use of adulterated alcohol the Austrian board of health has just issued an ordinance in which the use of methylated spirit is strictly specified and its sale limited to certain industrial purposes. In the manufacture of certain varnishes and in the leather business as well as in the chemical industries it is an indispensable substance but a number of beverages sweets and also pastry contain sometimes a small percentage of this alcohol. Its use for all sundry articles has now been absolutely prohibited. It is also contemplated to replace it by other less dangerous substances even in the process of making the ordinary spirit used for heating and lighting purposes unfit for human consumption. It will be remembered by medical men that some time ago when Ehrlich's injections of salvarsan were tried in Prague unfavorable reports came from that city regarding the effects of the compound. It was found out that the bad results were due to the presence of methyl alcohol in the solvent used and since that time all medical preparations in Austria have had to be made without any trace of this dangerous alcohol.

DEVELOPMENT OF FRAIL CHILDREN.

In a paper containing the results of a careful study of 101 children ranging from birth to 14 years of age Dr Richard L Smith of Grand Rapids Mich concludes in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association that the frail child presents the following fundamental characteristics: Frailness lack of fat tendency to catarrh lack of vigor in body development. The mass of a disturbed lot of later life in frail women are common in frail children. The lessened ability of such a woman to fulfill the duties imposed on her, the limitations placed on her by her lack of vigor and the unhappiness which such women in a state of fatigue endure are serious facts. Whether more might be done in the way of prevention. The frail child should be more clearly recognized and its tendencies more intelligently fought. In a large number of instances it is possible to maintain a fair state of nutrition in such children and to direct them to a more vigorous womanhood. When such is uniformly done it will do away to a certain extent with the neurotic women who form such a problem in every day practice and in almost every specialty.

PROVERBS

Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.

The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold; therefore shall he beg in harvest and have nothing.

Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water; but a man of understanding will draw it out.

Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness but a faithful man who can find?

Who can say I have made my heart clean I am pure from my sin?

Divers weights and divers measures both of them are alike abomination unto the Lord.

Even a child is known by his doings whether his work be pure and whether it be right.

Bread of deceit is sweet to a man but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

He that goeth about as talebearer ... not with him that flattereth with his lips.

An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning but the end thereof shall not be blessed.

The glory of young men is their strength and the beauty of old men is the grey head.

Every way of a man is right in his own eyes but the Lord pondereth the hearts.

A high look and a proud heart and the plowing of the wicked is sin.

The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetops than with a brawling woman in a wide house.

Who so stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor he also shall cry himself but shall not be heard.

A gift in secret pacifieth anger and a reward in the bosom strong wrath.

He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

TWO REASONS FOR REDUCING THE COTTON ACREAGE

All recognize this year that it is necessary to reduce the cotton acreage but all do not seem to appreciate the double reason for this reduction in acreage. All realize that the total crop was too large this year and that the acreage must be reduced in order to reduce the cotton production but few seem to realize that it is equally important that we reduce the acreage because we are using too large a portion of our land in cotton growing. Instead of using over 30 000 000 acres to produce from 1 000 000 to 1 000 000 bales we should and can easily produce all the cotton the world now needs on average year on 20 000 000 acres. If the crop of 1911 had been grown on 0 000 000 acres it would have been a profitable crop and none will deny that 0 000 000 acres ought to be made to produce 1 000 000 to 1 000 000 bales of cotton. Moreover the acreage should be decreased not only because we are producing too much cotton and too little per acre but also because so long as we plant so large a part of our land in cotton we can not improve its fertility as rapidly as we should and there is not enough land and labor left to produce the other crops we need for which our soil and climate are well adapted.

In short we are planting too much land to cotton because we are growing more cotton than the world will ... profitable prices and because putting so large a proportion of land to one crop is a bad system of farming and because we don't yet know how to grow cotton well enough to justify growing the crop so largely.

ROYAL BAKING-POWDER
Absolutely Pure

To have pure and wholesome food, be sure that your baking powder is made from cream of tartar and not from alum.

The Label will guide you

Royal is the only baking powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

No Alum No Lime Phosphates

THEY TELL NOTHING.

It seems that the seven candidates for congressman from the state at large do not care to let the people of the state know very much about them.

They tread up and down the state shaking hands with a few people making all sorts of promises in private which nobody can depend upon but they do not come out in the press of the state or on the public forum to tell the voters where and how they stand on the important matters of the day.

Only one candidate—that splendid and fearless Tyler—has come forward with anything like a platform that means anything when the issues of the day are thought of.

Tyler tells the people what he thinks and believes and what he would try to do if elected. The rest of them seem to want to hide everything from the voters and slip into the national legislature under a cover which will allow them to be the bosses instead of the friends and servants of the people.

Brooke and Atkins harp on good roads. We all know it would be the veriest fool who would not support any good roads proposition that had any reason about it. Then they want school houses more and more. Of course they do. The man who would not work to educate the masses of the children of the nation ought to be sent to the chain gang instead of to congress.

So far as can be learned Abercrombie Wall Hill and Cook do not believe anything sufficiently strong to let the voters know about it. If they believe the voters will vote for them simply because they are in the race they are mistaken.

If a candidate has a platform he had better get busy and propagate it. If they have none they had better play the ground hog and crawl back into their holes the day of the eight month silent politicians riding into office has passed.

Open up gentlemen and let the people of the state who are to do the voting know what you believe what you think and what you will do if honored with their ballot.

WANTED—FAIR PLAY

By Graham Hood

Much of the trouble much of the content much of the misery in this world is due to the fact that so many people are unwilling to play fair. Dutch dealings may succeed for a time but it will not be for long. Sooner or later the break is certain to come and no power on earth can stop the inevitable from happening.

The fact is that man is so constituted that he rebels at anything that savors of oppression. He is jealous of his rights and any attempt to deprive of one of these privileges immediately inspires the spirit of protest. If necessity drives and is obliged to submit to unfair treatment, he may make the best of the matter but he chafes as he waits for the normal when he can assert himself. It is a good thing that this should be so. The nation that was not composed largely of this kind of men would not last long, for a nation is no more than a collection of individuals. What the people are the nation is.

By this I do not intend to imply that the unfair treatment that is at the bottom of our troubles is all from one class. This is not so and it never will be. There are employers today who treat their workmen fairly. Present the statement the other way round and it would still be just as true. To adjust matters therefore fair play must exist on both sides. The employer must be willing to pay a fair amount of money for a fair day's work and the workman must be willing to give the services that his renumeration calls for. Unless this condition exists real peace is impossible.

E St Elmo Lewis emphasizes this fact in one of his recent articles on efficiency. To make a man an efficient aid in any work those who are associate with him must play fair. No firm can afford to be less careful of the reward for the worker than it is of the reward for its own effort he says. The employer must play fair if he wants fair play from the worker.

If this were the rule throughout the industrial world you would hear of no labor troubles. No honest man wants more than is coming to him as the result of his services. If he does more work he wants more pay. If he makes good suggestions, suggestions that are worth money he wants his recompense and he is justified in demanding fair treatment in this direction.

Original French Market Coffee
The Coffee With a History

The secret of the roasting process, and the blend, by which is produced the rare aroma and marvelous flavor of the French Market Coffee, was well kept for over a century.

Even today imitations are little like the original.

Few realize that French Market Coffee is roasted nearly twice as long as ordinary coffee.

Yet all its delightful properties are retained and intensified.

Harshness and bitterness are roasted out, leaving only the smoothness and aromatic flavor that is so delightful—so different from other coffees.

French Market Coffee

That is why French Market Coffee has always been the favorite midnight beverage of New Orleans society. Why it is the coffee with a history.

In France and Austria only are there coffees prepared with the same exquisite care that is characteristic of French Market Coffee. But nowhere in the world is there a duplicate of the Unique Hygienic Roasting Process used at the French Market Mills in the production of French Market Coffee.

Until the building of the French Market Mills, this historic coffee-blend could be had only at the French Market in New Orleans.

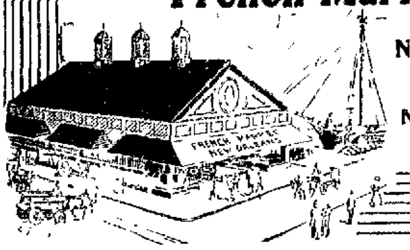

But NOW you all may enjoy it daily on your own tables. For genuine French Market Coffee is now delivered everywhere in hermetically-sealed tins—in all its full natural strength and delicious flavor.

"There is only one real old French Market flavor."

HOUSEHOLD SANITATION.

We hear much of the dust enemy and we should hear and heed the repeated warnings given us in regard to the evils of dust The children in our schools today will know much better how to keep clean sanitary houses than did our grandmothers, providing they follow the teaching A grain of dust too small to be noticed by the unaided eye may be the abode of hundreds of microbes which can cause us trouble The vacuum cleaner is doing good work to wipe out dust and keep us free from such exposure to disease but where one may have the advantage of a cleaner hundreds of thousands are obliged to wield the broom and dust cloth

When sweeping it is best to have a damp broom and something like dampened paper or tea leaves to keep the dust from flying One can by a little planning keep and dry the tea leaves, moistening [illegible]

In sweeping a [illegible] it is best to plan to sweep and take up the dust from each breadth [illegible] instead of spreading it all over the room

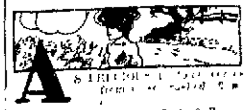

It is much more sanitary and much easier, to have rugs and bare floors The rugs can be taken outside and cleaned and the floors wiped so that the room is free from dust

The dust cloth is another useful article to consider, those prepared with oils that have some kind of oil in them are good because they hold the dust and keep it from scattering back to the floor When using an ordinary cloth it may be dampened lightly with paraffin polish and it will hold the dust much better

Ventilation of the home is another important matter Cold air is not necessarily pure and we all need fresh pure oxygen in order to make and keep pure good blood Those who sleep in crowded unventilated bedrooms to save the fuel bill are piling up a good fat bank account for the family doctor as well as making future suffering for themselves No body aided by fresh air can withstand disease and the little busy microbes get in good work on such a host

Fish Timbales.—For these choose a firm white fleshed fish free it from bones and chop fine then pound to a pulp. Press the pulp through a fine sieve and to each cupful add a half teaspoonful of salt a dash of cayenne and the white of an egg Stir in enough thick sweet cream about a tablespoonful to make of the right consistency test by dropping a small bit into boiling water and cook gently for three minutes break open and if too dry add a little more cream Have ready some buttered fish molds fill and stand them in a pan of hot water to cook in the oven Cover with buttered paper and cook from fifteen to twenty minutes Turn out and garnish with parsley

Grape Ice.—A delicious grape ice is made by boiling together a pint of water and a pound of sugar for five minutes Cool and add a pint of grape juice and the juice of a lemon If the juice is sweet less sugar should be used

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic and from the first day it seemed to help.

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community there live women who have been benefited by Cardui.

The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy soon show themselves in many different ways.

Try it.

WANT NO CLERICAL CLOTHES

Derelicts Refuse to Accept Parson's Coats Fearing the Taunts of Their Fellows

A bundle of clothes from the mission lay on the tailor's table.

"What did you send these things around to me for?" I asked. "They seem to be in pretty good condition."

"They are in good enough condition," said the missionary, "but they will never be acceptable to the derelicts we expect to distribute them among until the ministerial cut is modified. Every coat in the lot has belonged to a preacher, and its style betrays its ownership.

"Most of the men who apply at the mission for hand-me-downs haven't much pride left, but they balk at a parson's coat. Unless actually driven to it they will not wear one.

"Clothes twice as badly worn but of a business cut are chosen instead. Most ministers have hard work disposing of their clerical clothes. Conscientious scruples against masquerading in religious garb have nothing to do with these men refusing the ministers' coats. They simply don't want them because they dread the taunts the coats are likely to provoke among their fellows."

KNOWLEDGE OF EVIL NEEDED

Virtue and Progress in the Right Path Cannot Spring From Mere Innocence

Innocence is lovely in the child because in harmony with its nature, but our path in life is not backward but onward, and virtue can never be the offspring of mere innocence. If we are to progress in the knowledge of good, we must also progress in the knowledge of evil. Every experience of evil brings its own temptation, and according to the degree in which the evil is recognized and the temptation resisted will be the value of the character into which the individual will develop.

Innocence may be beautiful, but can never be strong, while the whole essence of virtue lies in its strength to resist and power to endure. If the innocence of childhood be replaced by the firm principles of integrity and honor, the loss will be really a great gain. It is only where the knowledge of evil is unattended by appreciation of its nature, where temptations are yielded to and not resisted, that we are induced to grieve over the departure of that innocence which was so beautiful in earlier years.

Undoubtedly Genuine.

The mistress observed one morning that her dusky butler was wearing a ring with a setting almost large enough for a beacon light if it had possessed the proper brilliancy. Later in the day she chanced to hear a conversation between the butler and the maid.

"Am dat a genuine dimont yo' is sportin', Jake?" the maid asked, suspicion and hope about equally balanced in her tone.

"Am dis a dimont?" reproachfully. "Does yo' spose I'd buy anything else fo' a gagement ring? Huh! dis am a dimont an' it am gold what it sets in."

"If yo' mean you bought it fo' me yo' will have to tell the price fo' I'll believe hit's a dimont. I was fooled on a wid a brass ring an' I don't mean to be caught again."

"Cose hit's a dimont, Lucy. Hit cost $2.50."

"Well, gimme here. Ef dat ring as hit am a genuine dimont I'll cept it fo' a gagement ring."—Housekeeper.

Benevolent Mule

A farmer once bought a mule at the market and named it Tough Hide, for it looked as if it had been accustomed to more blows than food. He put the animal in his little clover field, and this it seemed to enjoy very much. One morning Tough Hide saw a troop of asses coming down the lane, looking rather thin. He asked them if they would like a bite of sweet clover. "Ah, wouldn't we," brayed the asses.

So the mule with his teeth drew out the staple which fastened the gate and let them in. Soon after the farmer passed by and saw the animals eating his clover, so he got a cudgel and drove them all out. He not only gave the asses a sound thrashing, but he thrashed Tough Hide as well.

Moral.—Generosity is a good thing, but ought not to be practiced with other people's property.

Place of the Fireless Cooker

Even in this rich country only one family in ten can afford to hire a cook, and in the far west such a person is seldom obtainable at any price. Now, by the fireless cooker all women who have to prepare their own meals will be emancipated from the hot stove slavery, which is particularly cruel in our sultry summers. It makes it possible for them to cook breakfast, luncheon and dinner at the same time in perhaps an hour, leaving the rest of the day free for other work. Broiling, steaming, stewing, baking, frying, roasting—everything except crisping and toasting—can be done with these boxes in their most improved styles.—Century.

Georgia's State Chemist Praises Cottolene

Mr. J. H. McCandless, State Chemist of Georgia, before a recent gathering, gave emphatic testimony to the high quality of Cottolene. He said:

"The sale of this product (Cottolene), and the proclamation that it is made from cotton oil, have done more to bring cotton seed oil truthfully and favorably before the public than anything else in recent history."

Mr. McCandless then pointed out why a pure refined vegetable oil such as is used in Cottolene is the only assurance that a woman has of a clean, digestible cooking product.

ROOSEVELT WILL SOON MAKE AN ANSWER

New York, Feb. 13.—The long expected answer of Col. Theodore Roosevelt to the query which stretches like a vast interrogation point from Maine to California as to whether or not he will accept the presidential nomination is expected to be made within a week. It probably will come in the shape of a letter made public either next Sunday or Monday.

Col. Roosevelt will address the constitutional convention at Columbus, O., on Wednesday. Later in the week the Colonel will go to Boston and it is expected his New England speech will be of a political character. A number of prominent of state politicians are mentioned in connection with the Roosevelt campaign in this state.

WOMAN WANTS JOB ON SUPREME COURT BENCH

Washington, Feb. 13.—Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey of Boston for the United States supreme court.

This is the latest agitation to spread from the suffrage movement and it is the first time that a woman has ever been mentioned for a place on the bench of the highest court in the land. Mrs. Mussey is vice president of the Federation of Women Clubs, the Dean of the Washington School of Law. President Taft has received a petition from the women lawyers in Boston asking him to appoint Mrs. Mussey. Club women throughout the United States have been urged to work for her by bombarding their congressmen with petitions urging Mrs. Mussey's appointment.

Bill Boll Weevil Coming

Enter The Corn Contest And Be Independent Of The Growth Of Cotton By The Time The Boll Weevil Comes

BUGGY & WAGON GIVEN AS PRIZES

The government experts say that the boll weevil will be with us in two years When that time comes our farmers will have to do some thing else besides raise cotton for a few years till they learn how to fight him We have a plan an educational plan We want the farmer to

LEARN TO MAKE CORN

In order to stimulate corn culture in this country The [illegible] Buggy Co of Monroe N C has very generously offered to give free through us as agents one of their famous buggies to the farmer living in Houston or that portion of Geneva county lying east of range 24 who raises the most corn on one acre of land

THIS IS A FREE FOR ALL CONTEST

And to show you that we think corn culture in the intensive plan is a good thing we propose to give a prize ourselves We will give to the farmer in the territory mentioned above making the most corn on one acre of land a one horse Weber Wagon Provided he uses our famous Patapsco Fertilizer on same

What is the use in planting and cultivating corn on the old plan get ting fifteen or twenty bushels to the acre when you can make from 50 to seventy five bushels to the acre by the judicious use of fertilizer This would increase the cost of production but little In fact it would only cost you the extra fertilizer used

When the farmers of this section make more corn a packing house will be built in this territory thereby creating a market for live stock a thing we have long since needed

RULES FOR THE ABOVE CONTEST

In competing for the Buggy You must live in Houston County or that portion of Geneva east of Range twenty four

In competing for the wagon You must live in above territory and use exclusively our fertilizer—Patapsco Brand

HOW CONTEST IS DECIDED

A committee of three men to be selected from each beat by the con testants themselves will measure or weigh the corn make oath before a notary public or justice of the peace and bring that to our store

Call at our store and register your name between now and April 1 1912 if you desire to enter the contest as all contestants names must be on record in our office

DISPOSITION OF THE PRIZE CORN

You will want to know something of the disposition of the prize corn You keep it and feed it to your hogs We want the [illegible] to raise more hogs and hope this will help stimulate corn culture [illegible] [illegible]

WHEN PRIZES ARE AWARDED

Prizes will be awarded sometime in the fall probably in October or November at a convenient time for all the contestants Exact date will be [illegible] later

We hope that 1912 will be a record [illegible] in corn culture in South Alabama

Come to our store and talk over the plan with us

GAS PLANT AND GRADING MATTERS TO COME UP

MEETING OF CITY COUNCIL IS POSTPONED UNTIL TOMORROW NIGHT

The meeting of the city council which was to have been held last night was postponed until Wednesday night owing to the fact that there was not a quorum present.

The matter of the franchise for the $50,000 gas plant asked by Messrs [illegible] and W. H. Harrison, Jr., which was submitted at the last meeting, will come up for action. As will be remembered the gentlemen asked for a franchise for [illegible] years and stated their intentions of erecting a plant costing $50,000.

The matter of grading West Main street to the Incorporation limits will also come up. This matter was submitted at the last meeting of the body by Hugh G. Smith in interest of Bell and Smith and according to the plans the property owners agree to pay three fourths of the cost and let the city pay the other one fourth. It is estimated that the grading will cost $400, the greatest amount of which will be for a concrete sewer for Folk's branch.

Both propositions have been in the hands of committees who are to report tomorrow night.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS IN BROWN GIRL DEATH

There have been no new developments in the case of the death of Miss [illegible] Brown, the young lady who was found dead at her home near here Sunday afternoon, reported to the officers, and the death still remains a mystery, although it is generally conceded to be a case of suicide. According to the attending physician and the coroner's jury the bullet holes in the girl's head were of the same calibre of the gun found on her breast [illegible] shells found on the bed are said to have contained the bullets that caused her death according to their opinions.

Many conflicting reports and opinions as to how she met her death are still in circulation but those most familiar with the case declare it a case of suicide.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MEETS TOMORROW

The city executive committee will meet here tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of [illegible] appointing managers, clerks and returning officers for the city election which take place on March 1. The committee met several weeks ago and appointed the officers but it was learned later that some of the candidates wished to submit the list wanted by them and another meeting has been called. The candidates according to the law are given the privilege of submitting a list and after this is all in the committee appoints as they see fit.

The damage was very little except a few clothes in the trunk that got damaged mostly by the water.

TRIES TO KILL NEGROES WHILE IN COURT ROOM

Shelbyville, Tenn., Feb. [illegible] Three negroes, Watt [illegible], Dave Neal and Dave Rounce, charged with the murder of Special Officer S. W. Everson of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway ten days ago near Bell Buckle, were shot just before [illegible] o'clock this afternoon on the steps of the circuit court room in the court house here while their preliminary trial was in progress.

Three witnesses had been examined when with passionate anger [illegible] Everson's friends broke loose.

The evidence showed conclusively that the negroes were guilty. The circuit court room where the trial was being held was packed. No member of the mob was disguised.

The bodies of the negroes were gotten into the sheriff's office which was promptly barred. The rumor spread that the negroes had not been killed and the mob clung together unwilling to leave. It is said that Coer is dead. The report to the crowd that all the negroes was dead came from the sheriff's office, but the mob it is said thinks this may be a ruse.

The mob will not leave until satisfied reports from the scene [illegible].

The crime of which the negroes were accused was a brutal one. A crowd of negroes were drinking on [illegible] train between Bell Buckle and Wartrace [illegible]. Everson sought to take from them a bottle of whiskey from one. He passed on to the rear of the train but some of the negroes followed him and attacked him there. He was beaten on the head and then thrown bodily from the train.

Furs in Millinery

FURS in millinery have never been so well received as during the present winter. It seems that the vogue for gold and silver laces and nets and their introduction with cloth of gold and silver into gowns, has made fur the best of all finishing touches and milliners have used this beautiful combination in many rich and becoming hats.

All furs have been used but skunk, marten and fox are great favorites for trimming. They are used in bands and borders rather than in entire hats. The shorts furs like sealskin, beaver, ermine and broadtail make up entire hats and mink is a favorite used in either way.

One of the handsomest hats is a sealskin over a small bell shaped foundation. Its only trimming is a prim little cravat bow and ends of ermine poised at the front. A hat of gold satin in the French sailor shape is trimmed into two rows of gold lace—the tarnished brass color describing the color accurately. The lace was edged with narrow border of sable and a paradise feather like the sable fur in color, but shaping to gold furnished the trimming.

Black velvet shape trimmed with the heavy laces in white are handsome with skunk borders or bands. Soft caps of gold net lined with silk to match are finished with a broad band of marten about the face. Fancy ostrich or paradise feathers make the best trimming for these caps of velvet with pointed crowns and brims of cloth of gold are finished with a band of marten and loops of the gold lace that is fulled about the face. Most of these combinations are equally good with silver lace and with it a greater variety in color of velvet may be used.

These rich hats are particularly good from one standpoint. They may be worn with almost any gown or costume. Although the initial expense of a good fur hat is considerable the fur lasts for many seasons in fact almost indefinitely and may be used again and again.

In millinery many cheap furs are used that are about as effective as more costly ones but have not the same durability. They are called by the names of sealskins which they are made to imitate and answer the purpose for one or two seasons, very well. Marten and skunk are very desirable and fox also will stand the sort of wear it gets in millinery very well.

Just now there is a fad for hat muff and neckpiece made of velvet or satin, and bordered with fur. The pieces match and many an old set of furs is being cut up, the good parts pieced into bands and used to decorate such sets. Sometimes a bag is included in the pretty outfit. Altogether the result is very pleasing.

COAT OF REVERSIBLE CLOTH

Thick woolly cloth gray on the outside and plaid on the inside is used here. The large collar is of plaid with a smaller one in satin outside. The cuffs are also composed of the two. The buttons with corresponding loops form fastening below the collar.

Hat of felt trimmed with silk cut in frills and mounted one above the other.

Materials required: Four and one half yards 56 inches wide, one half yard black satin 20 inches wide, three buttons.

MAKEUP OF THE COIFFURE

Original Effects Sought After by the Smartest Women Who Set the Fashions of Paris

This year there is little absolute novelty in the matter of hair arrangement to chronicle yet the changes though subtle are none the less potent—a frequent experience as is demonstrated when one puts on an old hat carefully cherished even when no distinct change in fashion has taken place.

The most important aspect of the coiffure nowadays is the silhouette it produces, a fact in union with the whole spirit of dress. And this is the first point to be carefully noticed and attained. A low full outline is the one most generally sought after and attained quite chiefly by the aid of many clever frames and adjustments provided. A decidedly Eastern effect is one of the most noticeable features in the new dressings which should not be overlooked by the woman who would be in the van of fashion. In the evening this has its opportunity and Paris already speaks authoritatively of "le Grand Mogul."

Then in the arrangement of the long hair a decided vogue may be prophesied for wide soft plaits and twists frequently made of well waved hair which breaks the formality and throws other lines into [illegible] employed by the treatment of plaiting or twisting. A chic arrangement takes the form actually of a chignon—for want of a better word—covered with a very wide soft plait of waved hair, the effect being of broken lines intertwined which give different shades and [illegible] lights, while it is not till close examination that the plait itself is distinguished.
